

Definition of Services

Wrap-Around (WA) Services may be used in combination with other identified resources or as separate service components. Wrap-around services are used to support children placed in DFCS foster homes, children reunited with their birth families with court ordered services, or children placed with relative caregivers. WA Services is designed to improve outcomes in safety, permanency and overall well-being of children and families.

PMCCAS Wrap Around Services is a resiliency oriented, intensive community based service, available 24 hours per day, 7 days per week, that provides treatment and restorative/resilience-focused interventions to assist youth and adults in gaining access to necessary services. The WA Services' support team provides assistance by helping youth and families manage (including teaching skills) their emotional health and/or substance use/abuse issues; developing optimal age-appropriate community living skills; and in settling and attaining consumer and family defined resiliency goals.

Adults and youth served by PMCCAS WA services will experience decreased crisis episodes, increased community involvement, efficient time working in school or with social contacts, as well as personal satisfaction and independence. Through supports based on the individuals' needs, consumers will be engaged in the recovery process ONE STEP AT A TIME.

Our Goal

In addition to the professional and dedicated individuals who serve families at Proactive Management Counseling and Advocacy Services, there is a belief that children can break the cycle of violence and self-destruction, if they receive their basic human needs.

ProActive Management's GOAL is to provide a continuum of services to individuals and families in need of counseling, crisis intervention, prevention and education services. WA services assist youth and families in meeting their potential and reaching a more functional level of INDEPENDENCE.

Building on the Positive

Rather than approach families by determining only what's wrong, Proactive Management Counseling and Advocacy Services staff start by identifying what's RIGHT through effective listening to discover the family's strengths. From there, families can begin to build on what already binds them together and apply those strengths to the areas in their relationships that may require adjusting.

Team Approach

Each family is unique, and although the complex situations each one faces may require a variety of different services, our clients can feel more secure knowing there is that "family feeling" when working with a couple of Proactive Management's Family Advocates in different areas to reach success. Family Advocates will be with them every step of the way, ONE STEP AT A TIME. Families and Advocates work together to develop goals and an action plan to reach those goals through effective communication, which allows treatment for continuity of care. The Family advocate works to understand the particular situation by examining families in their homes, schools, and communities by using resources that may not have been discovered by the family. PMCCAS Family advocates and clinical staff believe that ALL FAMILIES HAVE STRENGTHS.
